

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Miss Ruth Morris of Connelldale and C. B. McCloskey of Connelldale will be married this evening at 8 o'clock at the Ohioville house, Ohioville. Their engagement was announced last night at a luncheon given at the hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Max Kueh.

Mr. Kueh will act as best man tonight and Mrs. Kueh as matron of honor. While Mrs. Metzger of Pittsburg will be bridesmaid. There will be other attendants. The ring ceremony will be in pink and white.

Miss Murray is a well known nurse teacher of this city. Mr. McCloskey is a Pittsburg broker.

The first annual reunion of the Tarr family will be held September 1 on the farm of H. H. Tarr, near Rutledge and Hunter.

The ladies of the Macabees have completed arrangements for an open meeting to be held this evening in Macabees hall for members and invited friends. An enjoyable program of music will be given, and other attractive entertainment has been provided for. A crueted piano will be played. Refreshments will be served. The women are hoping a campaign for new members. Pennsylvania has led states in applications for benefit memberships for three successive months, and the local review is doing all it can to keep her in the lead.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church will meet Friday at the home of Mrs. Newcomer on East Fayette street.

The King's Heralds of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a market in the Stauffer building on Saturday morning.

The ladies of the Hickory Square Methodist Protestant church are planning to hold a lawn sale and parcel post sale on Saturday at the Hilltown school grounds. Proceeds will go for the benefit of the church. An enjoyable time is promised all who come.

The M. E. C. P. Work club will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. F. Bradley on McCord avenue.

Little Miss Christabel Blair celebrated her fifth birthday yesterday by giving a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Blair on Pulaski street. Sixteen small guests attended. Games were played and a dainty lunch served. A birthday cake bearing five flags held the place of honor, and baskets of candy were given as favors. The guests included Misses Kathleen Walker, Annabell and Evelyn Barrett, Geraldine Brown, Laura Louise Goodwin, Regina Brown, Margaret Sandusky, and Masters Billie Yard, Billie Solson, Joe Kurtz, Harry Reese and William McFarland. Helma Shallenberger and Dollie Krieger were out-of-town guests. Mrs. Blair was assisted in entertaining by Miss Evelyn Blair and Mrs. G. D. Graham.

An error in the marking of the names of James Leaton Hixon of Dunbar, and Edward L. Kerr of Wheeler, yesterday, made it appear that Hixon's claim had been granted and Kerr's refused. The decision gave Kerr his exemption and drafted Hixon, which has been held over several days, was granted.

Theodore Stipinoris of Leisening, an Austrian, who claimed exemption on the grounds of being an alien, was exempted. He said he would not fight for France.

There were nine men examined by the board yesterday afternoon, being those who did not appear on the days called. Of the nine, only one, Ralph D. Yeager, was accepted. Five were rejected, they being Jack Morrison, Michael Rausitz, Donato D'Utile, Lukyn Winkley and John William Marker. Three claiming exemption were: Peter Probyyovskis, claiming wife and family, and John Corak, making the same claim. Rankin Williams claimed exemption on the grounds of being a widowed mother's sole support.

TO COLLECT CLIPPINGS

D. A. R. Also Adds Jelly-Making to Its War Relief Duties.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will add to their war activities by collecting clippings for the navy, and by donating jelly for hospital use. It was announced today. The Philip Freeman chapter of the organization, holding a sewing at headquarters in the Federal building Wednesday afternoon, will receive at that time donations of clippings, or jelly. These may also be left at 706 Vine street.

The clipping department has been established for the entertainment of sailors under the auspices of the Navy League, which furnishes addressed envelopes in which to place the clippings, which should be classified according to subjects.

The chapters are also asked to furnish the chapter regent with a supply of jelly to be held in store by her as hospital supplies when needed.

The Philip Freeman chapter will sew twice a week hereafter, at the Federal building.

GRANGE PICNIC

Arrangements Complete for Saturday's Outing at Dawson.

Arrangements are complete for the big grange picnic to be held at the Dawson fair grounds on Saturday. There will be music by the Leisening Cornet band, led by Ray C. Fisher, a candidate for jury commissioner. At 11 o'clock there will be a flag raising, followed by addresses by prominent Fayette county men, and at noon dinner will be served.

Following the dinner there will be talks by such well known agriculturists as former State Secretary N. B. Critchfield of Harrisburg; Dean R. L. Watts of State College, and P. E. Dougherty, Fayette county farm agent. Plans for the picnic were discussed at several meetings of the committees held this week.

G. A. R. PARADE SHORT

Men in Blue, Survivors of '61, Do Not March.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Several thousand men in blue, survivors of the men who fought for the Union more than a half century ago, marched with brave step through Boston streets today. The route was the shortest ever selected for the annual parade of the national encampment of the G. A. R. The veterans were favored with a blue sky and a cool breeze.

The chief marshal was J. Peyton Bradley of this city. In the line were the departments of the Grand Army in order of seniority of organization, the grand officers, sons of veterans, former prisoners of war, veterans and a rear guard of disabled veterans in cars.

SKYLES LUCKY

Mount Pleasant Connelldale Drains An Extra Two-Year Term.

A recent act of the legislature provides that where more than half of a councilmanic body retires in one year, one or more members are to be chosen by lot to serve for two additional years. This process was gone through with at Mount Pleasant last night.

The names of E. B. Swartz and Frank Hurst, from the First ward; Harry Skyles and Grant Long from the Second ward and Sam P. Stevens and Frank Pagner from the Third ward were each placed in an envelope and a drawing conducted. The name of Harry Skyles was drawn and he will serve until 1920.

Dead Recorded. Teresa Novack has bought from Mikoly Novack 34 111-150 acres of land in Dunbar township, according to a deed recorded in Uniontown. The consideration is given as $1.

GLASS PLANTS ARE HARD HIT BY BIG SHORTAGE OF GAS

Incident J. E. Angle of the Fayette County Gas company had served notice upon the Bryce Brothers firm and L. E. Smith Glass plant that no gas could be furnished them after November 31 unless the gas company's increase in rates is unopposed. The gas company, it was reported to council, will not drill any new wells unless assured that the advance in rates, now in effect, will not be opposed by its patrons. Under these circumstances, Mr. Bryce stated, his plant would have to be moved to some other town. A gas producer for the plant would entail an expense of $30,000 or more and rather than install one, Mr. Bryce stated, his company would look for another location where gas is plentiful.

The Bryce factory has a weekly payroll of $6,000 and the Smith plant about $3,000. The loss of the plants would be such a big blow to Mount Pleasant that the council took immediate action.

For some years past the Fayette County Gas company has had trouble keeping customers in the Mount Pleasant district supplied during the colder days of winter. To supply domestic consumers it has been necessary to cut off the glass plants. This has been necessary in Connelldale, Scottdale and Uniontown in all severe weather but not to the same extent as in Mount Pleasant which is the greatest distance from the West Virginia fields, whence the supply comes.

An increase in gas rates to domestic consumers has been in effect since April but a complaint filed with the Public Service Commission by the council of Connelldale, supported by Mount Pleasant and Scottdale, is still undecided.

NEGRESS DESERTED.

Man Brings Her Here For Work, Then Leaves Her.

Bertha Stanley, 37 years old, a ne-gress, told the police this morning that Joe Johnson had brought her here from Washington, Pa., last night to give her work at his home, and had then deserted her. The pair came into town on a trolley car, and Joe alighted first. When Bertha came down and looked for him he was gone. She asked the police for aid to get back to Washington, but was told to go out and look for Johnson.

Later this morning Bertha fell down on the sidewalk and was removed to the Cottage State hospital. At first it was thought she was suffering from a fit, but the doctors found her case was one of asthma.

CONSIDERS COAL SITUATION.

President Cancels Cabinet Meeting; Will Appoint Administrator Soon.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Wilson canceled the usual Tuesday cabinet meeting to devote his attention to the coal situation. The president is about to appoint a coal administrator, but he has not selected the man.

Officials say the President feels there is no question that the price of coal is too high and is anxious to remedy the condition as soon as possible. He realizes, however, the necessity for the selection of a highly qualified man for the coal administration position.

Antoiel Pays $2.50.

J. L. Haskins paid a $2.50 fine to Patrolman Turney for backing in the street near the Pennsylvania railroad station last night. Another antoiel was arrested for making a sharp turn near Brigsdown corner. He has not yet appeared for a hearing.

NEW EVIDENCE CLINCHES FAST THE OLD CLAIM

Nerv-Worth Wonderfully Overcomes Intestinal Ills Due to Vegetable Eating.

Proprietor White, of White's Apothecary Hall, McKeesport, Pa., has found by careful personal test that Nerv-Worth is the best medicine he has ever taken for colic, cramps, dysentery and other summer complaints which follow the eating of fresh vegetables. He is urging friends and customers to get relief through Nerv-Worth and the result is record-breaking sales of the tonic in McKeesport. This is no new Nerv-Worth claim. Many signed statements to the same effect are among Nerv-Worth endorsements. After giving his own statement to that effect Druggist White added:

"Nerv-Worth has no equal as a hot weather tonic. It steadies and strengthens the nerves, weakens the appetite, digests and assimilates the food, prevents fermentation, restores restful sleep, regulates the bowels, rouses the liver, banishes sick and nervous headaches and other aches and pains, builds up run-down systems."

"WHITE'S APOTHECARY HALL, McKeesport, Pa."

SUNDAYS 15 CENTS.

Drug Store Men Boost Price of Ice Cream Concoctions.

Ice cream sundae at city drug stores will cost 15 cents hereafter. The advance is said to have been decided upon at a meeting of proprietors yesterday. Plain ice cream will cost 10 cents a dish.

Ice cream has advanced, the dealers say, to such a point that they can make nothing on a 10-cent sundae. A short time ago milk chocolates were advanced from five to 10 cents, but a larger quantity is served.

SELL 50TH OLDSMOBILE.

Connelldale Garage Passes Half Hundred Mark Since January 1. The Connelldale Garage today sold its 50th Oldsmobile automobile since January 1, thus setting what is believed to be a record for this vicinity. The garage is distributors for the Oldsmobile machine in this territory and it has been very fortunate in getting quick deliveries.

S. C. Whippley is one of the latest Oldsmobile buyers. He is driving a new eight cylinder club roadster.

The New Things for Autumn Are Arriving Daily

The new modes are military, or if they are not actually braid-bound and brass-buttoned in uniform fashion, at least they show the influence of the war in their increasing simplicity and practical character.

In the new Suit materials the twills and gabardines are very popular because they can be had in the service shades of drab and dust color. Navy blue serge is more highly thought of than ever. Mixtures, homespuns, tweeds, checks and covert are smart for the present tailored styles. You'll find many new things here to interest you, especially the new Millinery creations.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE. Aug. 21.—Charles Keller, who represents the Arbuckle company from Pittsburgh, and a companion representing the Sauer's Vanilla company, had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon when they were crossing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at the foot of Chestnut street. A freight train came and Mr. Keller heard the whistle. He thought to stop before the train came, but the brakes did not hold and the car ran on the tracks. A special train with an engine and one coach struck the automobile and dragged it 50 feet. The car was entirely demolished but Mr. Keller and the other salesman, who had jumped, escaped unharmed.

Tennis Matches.

Saturday afternoon the members of the local tennis club entertained Paul Johnston, Robert Tobon and T. Cowan of the Jeannette club on the local courts. In the first match of singles Donald Stauffer displayed excellent form against a more experienced opponent, but lost out, 6-5, 6-2, 7-4. Ralph Sherick had a rather easy time of disposing of Mr. Johnston, who could not solve his masterly backhand drives, and succumbed to the younger player, 6-2, 6-2. What should have been a well played and hard fought match, turned into a one-sided contest by reason of both players being out of form and Mr. Cowan took the match from Mr. Flagle, 7-5, 6-3. The only match of doubles was called at the end of the second set, each team having taken one set with the chances in favor of Sherick and Jarrett, against Johnston and Johnston.

To Be Boys Secretary.
H. B. Singer wired yesterday from Waynesboro that he will accept the position of boys work, religious and membership secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. He will take up his work on September 5.

SEVEREST TESTS IN AVIATION CORPS

Candidates For Airmen Must Meet Rigid Requirements.

MANY ARE REFUSED DAILY

Must Not Only Be Physically Sound, but Must Have Acute Eyesight and Balance—Sense of Touch Is Also Carefully Examined by Physicians, and Many Refused on These Grounds.

Perfect physical condition is only one of the requisites of the aviator, and the degree of perfection desired is far beyond that expected in any other branch of the government military service. But to top this off, the finest organs, perfect limbs and all around physical proficiency count as nothing unless the candidate for a place in the aerial corps can pass a series of tests which for ingenuity of search are appalling to the man under the probe.

Strong, vigorous youths who could fit into any other branch of the service are daily refused in aviation because their lack of balance, the sixth sense, which few knew any possessed, would condemn them to speedy death, or because of their inability to distinguish browns from greens at great heights would cause them to drop into treacherous fields of plowed fields.

Whispering Test Next.
The candidate must fall within the weights of 120 pounds as a minimum and 160 pounds as a maximum. After each man is credited with his mark for physical fitness and soundness of the organs his hearing is examined by the whispering test at distances of twenty feet.

All possible diseases are then investigated. Each man is scolded and examined from the top of the head to the soles of his feet. If any has skin disease, varicose veins or other complaints of a similar nature he is counted out until cured. Flat feet, unless they are of a very serious nature, are not a bar to the aviator, as he is not compelled to march.

The Vital Sixth Sense.

The most interesting part remains. That is to discover how well developed to each man is the vital sixth sense, the principle of equilibration. An expert on this subject explains it as follows:

In each ear are three tiny canals filled with grapple. These canals are the spirit levels of the body. Movement in any direction is communicated through the flow of the fluid in these tiny canals to sensitive nerves, which carry the impression to the brain. This organ in turn sets about correcting the balance in the normal method.

Then comes the test of balance. The candidate is seated in an armchair working upon a pivot, with a head rest for security and a full handle projecting above, by which the chair can be turned. The youth is told to fasten his eye upon an object and then close his eyes.

The chair is then spun rapidly to the right, but revolutions in twenty seconds. As it is stopped suddenly facing the stationary object the candidate opens his eyes and endeavors to focus them upon the object. The dizzy motion causes the eyes to look rapidly from side to side until they regain their natural control. Twenty-six seconds are allowed for the nerves to regain control. Then the same test is performed with the spinning to the left. This test shows the rapidity with which the candidate regains control of his balance after being violently twisted and turned.

Testing Sense Touch.
The spontaneous touch test next is in order. The candidate closes his eyes. The physician standing before him at arm's length holds his index finger so that the youth's finger rests upon it. He is then ordered to raise his arm and allow it to descend gradually to see whether it will come back to the same point of contact.

This was no very serious task, but that which followed was one of the hardest of the day. The man is spun in the chair as fast as it can be turned and then, when brought to a standstill, is compelled to raise and lower each arm alternately three times in a row. Then in sixteen seconds to see how far past the point of touch his finger will rest. When the spinning is to the right the hand drifts in the opposite direction, and vice versa.

The final test that shows the marked off of the balance in the ear is disclosed when the youth is forced to sit in the chair, with feet upon knees and head bent forward until the forehead touches the hands. The chair is revolved slowly five times, and the candidate is ordered to sit erect without opening his eyes. If he has natural balance as he sits up he falls heavily to the side opposite to that toward which he was revolved.

ONE "FIRST LADY"

Wife of M. Poincare, President of the French Republic.

SHE WAS BORN AN ITALIAN.

Her Position as the President's Wife Was Subject to Criticism at First Because of Her Foreign Birth and First Marriage, but Tact Has Allayed It.

Like the wives of many other statesmen of France, Mme. Poincare has not occupied a conspicuous place in the public eye. She is known to be a brilliant woman, who prefers the seclusion of her own home to the glare of publicity. Her brilliant husband has always found her a source of inspiration, for she is a deep student of public questions, takes a keen interest in his career and has often proved herself a wise counselor, in whom he places much reliance. He gives her due credit for the part she has played in the advancement of his national life.

Brightness, industry and elegant poise completely won the Emperor's palace with Empress Eugenie. The wives of presidents have sought, for political purposes and largely also from personal preference, to give life at the Elisee a homelike character; have been subdued by European royalty and have surrounded, directly the social reign to the hostesses and the families of the first empire.

The difficulty is an inheritance from the Empress Eugenie. She mixed up in grades of state with such charming results that when the republic was established the government determined to make it impossible for the president's wife to have enough influence to become dangerous.

During M. Poincare's early political ambitions his wife's name was brought up by his enemies unpleasantly. Not only was Mme. Poincare's Italian birth held up against her, but also the fact that her first marriage was to a German, an attitude of the Kaiser's ambassador in Paris. She married M. Poincare after he had acted as her lawyer in securing a divorce from her first husband. The charming Italian woman—her maiden name was Henrietta Bonnet—having cause for divorcing her husband, appeared to M. Poincare, then one of the leading lawyers in Paris, to represent her before the courts. Her excellent character and noble qualities of mind, as brought out during the conduct of the case, so appealed to the noted bachelor lawyer that he was later led to pay court to his former client and marry her.

ENGAGING SERVANTS.

How to Go About It So They Won't Overwhelm You.

It is more satisfactory to have servants sent from reliable employment offices to your home for personal interviews.

Remember they are interested in your location, style of kitchen, equipment, demands and personal quarters which can be satisfied at a house interview.

Ask a servant these questions:

How many years have you been a cook?

Can you refer to your last employer?

Have you print dresses to wear in the kitchen?

Can you make your own ice creams?

Will you divide the washing with the second maid?

Will you keep your room to my standard of cleanliness?

Your cleaning includes dishwashing, mending, bathroom, back and collar starches, kitchen, pantries, brooms, back porch, laundry, garbage can. Are you equal to it?

By the time she has answered all these questions and her manner and attitude have been studied you will have an estimate of her ability and willingness.

Never fail to investigate thoroughly a maid's references. Carefully note dates references carry.

The Meat Flavor.

Cold ham, chicken or other meat left over in quantities too small for use alone may be used advantageously by mixture with other foods. Here is a recipe for one way to use such meat.

Chop the meat fine and season it well. Mix in enough butter or other fat to make it "slimy" well. Form into rolls about the size of a finger and wrap around each a thin piece of short dough made from a pint of flour, two tablespoons of baking powder, salt and milk enough to mix. Bake the rolls in a hot oven until they are a delicate brown. Serve hot.

For Linen Closets.

If bits of sandalwood are kept in the drawers and other places with the clothing, its fragrance will permeate and give everything a delightful odor.

For use with household linen this is recommended, and all the ingredients may be had of the druggist:

Dried lavender 12 ounces
Dried rose leaves 12 ounces
Ground bergamot 4 ounces
Ground cinnamon 112 ounces
Cinnamon 112 ounces
Cloves 112 ounces

The spices might be had of the grocer.

Mix with twelve ounces of fine table salt and put into a fruit jar. Leave for a month to blend odors perfectly then let stand open an hour or two each day in a closet or bureau drawer.

The ingredients are ground, not pulverized, and must be of the best. The most suspicious of mink may be added to the so preparations, but the slightest bit too much will ruin the odor, as mink is very strong. Only the most delicate odor is admissible if one is fastidious in taste.

Hygiene Tip.

Always hold milk bottles under the cold water tap until they are thoroughly washed as soon as they are received. It is impossible to tell what hands have touched them, and washing the bottles also prevents any dirt entering the milk compartment of the ice box.

Poison Ivy.

Just as soon as you are aware that you have been exposed to poison ivy or begin to feel that itching and stinging spots, rub the part with freshly gathered catnip leaves. Catnip is the enemy of poison ivy.

ANTIDOTES FOR POISONS.

A Bit of Knowledge Till the Doctor Gets There.

A knowledge of the antidotes for a specific poison may often be the means of saving a life.

For acidulous poisons, those that cause burning from the mouth down to the stomach, the remedy is magnesia, soda or soap dissolved in water. Administer this antidote every two minutes while waiting for the doctor.

For arsenic poison give a prompt emetic of a tablespoonful each of mustard and salt dissolved in a cupful of warm water; then follow with sweet oil, melted butter or milk. The white of an egg in half a cupful of milk will also help counteract the poison, as also will chalk and water.

If one partakes of corrosive sublimate, blue vitriol or beting poison give at once large quantities of freshly salted water of egg and water, or give freely of wheat flour and water or soap and water.

Oxalic acid is frequently mistaken for epsom salts. Give immediately soap and water or magnesia or chalk and water.

THE BATTLE OF LIFE.

What a Man Should Have and Be at the Age of Thirty-five.

Jack Lait says in the American Magazine:

"At thirty-five a citizen should have a wife and children, he should have a permanent trade, business or profession; he should own a home; he should have money in bank and a commensurate endowment policy half paid off; he should be thorough with experiment and on his way, realizing the dream he dreamt when he had time to dream, waiting over the path he laid in the road building years, biting on his second wind beyond the point to which he laboriously attained his way through life."

"Youth is a tonic and its manifestations are grit and gaucherie, hope and yearning, ambition and hard tackling energy and pep and good as new recoveries and gay times and extravagances. But youth is a bargain commodity—priced to own, cheap to buy."

"He's only a boy," says the world, and he goes at fifty cents on the dollar.

"Therefore youth is the time to invest, and sometimes later comes the time to collect. Somewhere is the turning peak. I think it is marked '35'."

HOME-READING COURSE FOR CITIZEN-SOLDIERS.

(Issued by the War Department and all rights to reprint reserved.)

A Course of Thirty Daily Lessons Prepared for the Men Selected for Service in the National Army as a Practical Help in Getting Thoroughly Started in the Business of Soldiering, and Introductory to the Instruction That Will Be Given in the Training Camps.

LESSON NO. 3.

Marching and Care of Feet.

The new soldier seldom understands how important it is for him to learn to march and to develop his muscles so that he can easily carry his arms and equipment. "Marching constitutes the principal occupation of troops in campaign." (Infantry Drill Regulations, paragraph 853.) Modern trench warfare in Europe has for the time being reduced the amount of marching required in campaign; yet it remains just as important an element in the soldier's training as ever was.

In order to march for long distances the soldier's feet must be in good condition. As has been aptly remarked, "the infantryman's feet are his means of transportation." Special attention should be paid to the fitting of shoes and the care of the feet. Marching shoes should be quite a little larger than shoes for ordinary wear. "Sore and blistered" on the feet should be promptly dressed during halts. At the end of the march feet should be bathed and dressed; the socks, and if practicable the shoes, should be changed. (Infantry Drill Regulations, paragraph 857.)

You will learn in this practical course for taking care of your feet that are followed by experienced soldiers. You will avoid considerable discomfort, however, if you learn some of these rules now and put them into practice from the very beginning:

1. See that your shoes are large enough. They will at first look and feel unnecessarily loose. This is needed because it has been found that feet swell and lengthen on marches, especially when carrying packs. But shoes fitted this way will give you no corns, blisters, blisters, or other foot ills. In fact, they will cure any that you may already have.

2. Take pains to keep your shoes in good condition. It is a good idea to apply a light coat of mink's foot oil, which will both soften the leather and tend to make them waterproof. Don't neglect to smooth out wrinkles in the lining of the shoe. "Break in" new shoes before wearing them on long marches.

3. Wear light woolen socks, such as will be issued to you. See that you have no holes or wrinkles in them. If a hole has been worn and cannot be mended at once, change the sock from one foot to the other so that your foot will not be irritated more than is necessary.

4. Keep your feet, socks and shoes clean. When on the march try to wash your socks at night and put on a clean pair every morning. Bathe the feet every evening, or at least wipe them off with a wet towel.

5. Keep your feet scrupulously clean. A foot bath can be taken when other facilities are not at hand, by scraping a small depression in the ground, throwing a pan of water over it and pouring water into this from your canteen. Even a pan of water will do for a foot bath. You can bathe all over by making or finding a depression of suitable size and using your pan as for a foot bath.

6. Keep your toe nails trimmed closely and cut them square across the ends. This will tend to prevent ingrowing nails. By all means avoid the common error of rounding the corners of the nails and cutting it to a point in the center.

7. In case a blister is formed while on the march, open the edge of the blister with the point of a knife or a needle that has been heated in a candle flame. Be sure to cauterize all the fluid out of the blister. To leave any of it in may make it worse. Do not pull off the loose skin but press it back. Then put on an adhesive plaster, covering the skin well beyond the edges of the blister, putting it on as tightly as possible without wrinkles. In the same way put on an adhesive plaster over any red or tender spots.

8. In case any tendons become inflamed or swollen (usually due to tugging the legging or shoe too tightly or to some other unnecessary pressure), soak the foot in cold water, massage the tendon, and protect it as much as possible by strips of adhesive plaster. You should report to a medical officer at your first opportunity to make sure that the trouble does not grow worse.

One sign of a green soldier is his tendency to drink too much water on a long march. The experienced man gorges his mouth and throat once in a while, but drinks only in sips and does not overload his stomach with either water or food.

After you have arrived in camp and have cooled off you can drink slowly as much as you desire. It is, of course, unwise to eat fruits, candy, and drinks, ice cream, and the like while on the march.

Another sign of a green soldier is a carelessly adjusted pack or any other equipment not neatly and securely fastened. Your comfort on the march depends very largely on the care and judgment used in getting ready. All your equipment has been so designed that it need not interfere with the free movement of your arms and legs. Your pack should be strapped to your back in such a way that you can stand erect and breathe freely. There should be no pressure on any of the soft parts of the body. You will surely regret it if you keep your body erect and do not permit yourself to slouch or sway from side to side.

When the camp is given to halt and fall out for a few minutes loosen your pack and rest back on it in a sitting and lying position. If possible lie with your feet higher than your head, so as to let the blood flow out of the legs into the body and rest your heart. During the first few halts you may not feel tired, but rest as completely as you can anyway. Look forward to the end of the march and try to handle yourself so that you will be strong and fresh at the finish.

At the first halt it is well to readjust the pack or any part of the equipment not entirely comfortable. If your shoes or leggings are laced too tightly, this is the time to loosen them.

A cheerful attitude is one of the best aids to a soldier on a trying march. Singing and whistling on the march is usually not only allowed but encouraged. These help wonderfully to make the long road seem shorter.

There are all very simple rules, but none the less important. Keep them in mind. Some men never learn except from their own hard experience; but it is expected of the men in the National Army that they will have the good sense to see the value of these suggestions and to apply them from the very beginning.

TO ENLIST BOYS OF 16 TO 21 YEARS IN WORKING RESERVE

Enrollment Labor Day of Boys to Form Force to Engage in Productive Work to Help Win the War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Young men of Pennsylvania, you are needed in some productive work! This is the call which is to go ringing through the length and breadth of the Keystone State.

Labor Day week has been decided on. It was announced here today at the United States Department of Labor as a period of special appeal to the youth of Pennsylvania to enroll for war emergency service in field and factory. It will be state-wide enrollment week for the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve. There will be no interference with school programs. It is hoped to enlist at least 25,000 boys between 16 and 21, who otherwise would be engaged in non-essential industry or not working at all, to enter some productive work necessary to the successful prosecution of the war.

Full plans of the campaign were mapped out at a conference here. Dr. John C. Frazer of Philadelphia, vice director of the Department of Civilian Service and Labor of the Committee of Public Safety of Pennsylvania, and federal superintendent in that state of the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve, came to Washington to confer with William E. Hall of Ridgway, Pa., national director of the reserve, and other officials of the Department of Labor. Others present were Dr. Charles C. Hoyt, superintendent of organization, and Dr. Henry V. Gummerson, superintendent of instruction, of the Pennsylvania Department of Civilian Service and Labor.

AUGUST FUR SALE

Begins Tuesday, August 21st, and Continues All Week

Our Fur Sale in August has become an institution. Surely all must be well acquainted with the reasons for buying Furs NOW—new skins—first selections—lower prices made possible by working in advance of the season. Quality and value backed to the limit by our reputation as reliable furriers.

Prices Lowest of the Year— With Average Savings of ONE-FOURTH

It goes without saying that Fur prices in August are much lower than they will be during the Winter months. And conditions in the fur markets are such that later production of like qualities will be well nigh impossible—and certainly prices will be higher. So all advices point to the advisability of buying Winter Furs NOW.
